"This was a very deeply touching, heart opening, and emotionally stirring experience for me. I experienced a kind of bliss I have only experienced during my deepest meditation, especially during the sacral connection exercise I did with Elysabeth.

It was an exhilarating and soulful satisfaction that comes with connecting with somebody so deeply. It was inexplicable, except to imagine that it must be our birthright to be in such joy. I also experienced emotional pain as the polar end of the high of the bliss. It humbled me, tested me, and pulled me upward to grow. It was a very rich experience."
